ABSTRACT

Wasted or unused medicine is a serious and growing problem you can help tackle. Wasted medicine is everyone's responsibility and there are small changes you can make to help reduce the amount of medicine being wasted. These savings could be reinvested into more front line care and services for the benefit of all. Often people may have excess amount of medicines with them. Based on the current situation, there is no way that a person can give medicines if its not needed or excess, to customers who need it. Here, I am proposing a system where the people who have excess of medicines can be re-used effectively. Reducing medicines waste will improve quality, save resources and helps to add value to patient care. There is a need and an opportunity for strong leadership from people to help reduce medicines waste.
